

RALEIGH, NC - The annual Clash of the Carolinas will be held Saturday, June 24 at WakeMed Park's Koka Booth Stadium in Cary, North Carolina. Should there be inclement weather, the site will move to Cardinal Gibbons High School in Raleigh. The Clash is the nation's only interstate All-Star match and has been staged every Summer since 2007 except for the Covid-19 interrupted season of 2020.

Game times are 10:00 a.m., for the Girls and 12:00 p.m., for the Boys. Admission is $12 for the event (children under 5 are Free) and tickets may be purchased in advance at GoFan.co - link below:

2023 Sponsors for the Sandlappers include: First Citizens Bank; Hampton Inn Suites Raleigh/Cary; Lloyd's Soccer; SCSoccer.com; and Wingate State Arena by Wyndham Hotels.

The Clash features 72 of the Tar Heel and Palmetto State's top boys and girls graduated seniors in an all-star contest. Also honored are eight coaches from the sponsoring organizations - the North Carolina Soccer Coaches Association and the South Carolina High School Soccer Coaches Association.

In the Boys series, North Carolina leads all-time 7-1-7, but four of the past five meetings have ended in draws and five other contests have been decided by one goal. For the Girls meetings, the Tar Heels own a 12-1-2 advantage and have won six consecutive contests.
